Profile

Full-stack Web Developer with a background in business ownership and project management. Currently attaining a certificate for full-stack web development at Vanderbilt University, structuring skills in CSS, JavaScript, Node, React and git version control. Passions for creative design and interactive user-experience have made me encompass intense attention to detail. Utilizing CSS frameworks and JavaScript libraries, I've created several applications that provide useful functionality with a motivation for the end-user. Eager to join a team to provide a unique perspective leveraging acquired skills and best practices.
